"There is one thing," said the man from the upper part of the state, "which, I find, shows that we are all of the same blood. It is a fire. Of course, when there is a fire in a country town we all go to it. It is a rare thing, and we find it a feature of the season. Besides that, we generally take a hand in hauling out furniture or making ourselves useful in other ways. Now you New Yorkers get just as excited and interested over a fire as we do, and your fires are so frequent that they have not the merit of novelty, while you know that there is nothing which you can do to be of service, because your pelice and firemen will not let you get near the blaze. But I notice that you all, boys and men, go chasing after a fire as fast as your legs will carry you. You have only to hear the clang of the engine to see a running crowd, or

The Greatest Travelers. In point of actual distance covered, the greatest traveler in the world is said to be Chief Engineer Sewell, of the White Star fleet, who is well known in this city. Seventeen carloads of beef cattle and three carloads of fut sheep were shipped from Repo to San Francisco yesterday. Amsom Reinhart, a nephew of E. Rein-hart of Winnemucca, left yesterday on a visit to Europe, which he left when a boy. W. L. Davis, of the White Pine News, spent yesterday in Reno on his return from San Francisco, and left for home last Olin Ward has returned from his ranch in Modoc county, California. He says this is the most favorable winter for stock ever known in that section. Old-fashioned March weather prevailed yesterday. It snowed and it blew by turns and the temperature was several degrees lower than it had been in the daytime for

The ballot for United States Senator in the California Legislature yesterday stood: Estee 47; Felton 35; Johnston 3; Blanchard 2; Perkins 1. The Democrats gave White 24 votes and Irish 1.

The Little Louisiana Lottery has passed a dividend. It is said that the officials give as a reason for this that they have been obliged to use money to influence the California Legislature.

Nelson W. Wescoatt, the well known surveyor, has been appointed assistant Superintendent of the Holmes Mining Company and of the Candelaria Water Works and Mining Company of Candelaria.

C. H. Markbam, the popular agent of the Southern Pacific Company, has been transferred to Fresno, California, for which place he will leave in a few days. H. L Field, recently from New York, will take the place of Mr. Markham here.

The Chloride Belt says: Considerable excitement is manifested in the southern country over the report that the famous Breyfogle mine has been rediscovered in the mountains north of Winters' ranch, Pahrumpe valley, in Lincoln county, this

A woman boarded a Grand Rapids and Indiana train at Reed City and rode to Big Rapids, where she alighted. She left a basket in the seat. The conductor did not particularly notice it until the train reached Rockford, when he found it contained a week-old baby boy.

J. R. Williamson, Jr., only son of Senator Williamson of Lander, died yesterday of pneumonic at Carson. He had just attained his majority and was a bright, intelligent youth, respected by all who knew him. Time alone can assuage the deep grief of his bereaved parents.

The Fifteenth Session of the Nevada Legislature will end by constitutional limitation at midnight. Three-fourths of the session was frittered away without accomplishing anything, and furnishes proof that all the legislation required, more in fact than is necessary, can be accomplished in filteen days.

The anniversary ball of the Emmet Guard of Virginia City was a grand success. Piper's Opera House was handsomely and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Sixty members of the guard, commanded by Lieutenant Brown, gave an exhibition drill in which difficult evolutions were executed, after which the dance went on until morning,

The musical and literary entertainment which is to take place this evening in Armory Hall under the auspices of the ladies of the Congregational Church, will undoubtedly be one of the most enjoyable events of the season. An excellent programme has been arranged for the occasion. The public generally is invited, and the price of admission is only 25 cents.

People are discussing the Utah & Nevada Air Line Railway and speculating as to where it will enter the town of Reno. The C. P. Railroad would not be likely, if it could prevent it, to permit an opposition road to be built through the canyons in which it runs along the Truckee between here and Wadsworth. If it should rau on the south side of the river from Wadsworth it would have to go through Lyon and Storey counties, and the Act makes no provision for that.

A BOOKWORM.

My hoard is books, loved almost as myself. If bores, I put them on the upper shelf; If friends, I dally as a lover dallies With his heart's choice in the sweet garden alleys. Where the rich vines to tangled rict run, And luscious peaches blush against the sun. Steadfast I find them here from day to day, Drawn up like soldiers in their stanch array; I open one; behold the trace of tears

Shed by some heart it touched in vanished years; Some are new comers, and smile cheerfully; Some are worn old and sad by constancy; I love them all, the beaming face or sad, Those that have made me weep, or made me glad.

All but the dull ones on the uppershelf, Them I would fain exchange for needed pelf. Sometimes I leave them, and go calmly out To where hearts faster beat, where children

To where hearts faster beat, where chik shout,
To feel the impulse of the eager crowd,
And hear traffic's babel, harsh and loud;
I test them as a man might test his wrife,
To teach her she is not the whole of life;
A schoolboy's trick it is, for soon I find
I've left my better self, my heart, behind.

The hundred souls whom Lgo forth to meet Are strangers to me in-the-greedy street;
The world seems nearest when my-hamp is lit,
And by its midnight-glow-liquiet sit;
Volumes with welcome greeting then look down,

And night-shuts out-the-noisy, restless town;
This is my haven, this-my marriage-bower,
Wedded to my books and happy-wary hour.
—Mrs. Napoleon B. Murango in Arkansaw Traveler.

The Insect World.

Entomologists-generally-concede that upward of 100,000 species of insects have been recognized and classified; some authors even place the number as high as 150,000, while it is not at all improbable that this vast number may not represent more than one-tenth of the number actually inhabiting the globe. Not less than one-half of the whole number belong to the order-coleopatera, or beetles, which order is by far the mostanumer-onsly represented of all. The lepidopters, or butterflies, have thus far yielded some 15,000 species, or about one-thirteenth of the total number (200,000), estimated by Speyer for the world at large, and an equal number may perhaps be credited to the hymenoptera (bees, wasps, etc.), the hemiptera (bugs) and diptera (flies).

The orthoptera or straight winged insects, which include the locusts, grasshoppers, etc., are considerably less numerous. The species with netted wings (neuroptera) probably number some place between 2,000 and 8,000. Insects are, of course, most numerously developed in the tropics, but they are not rare by any means in the coldest regions which have yet been visited by man .- St. Louis Republic.

Peculiar Taste in Dress. Sir Humphrey Davy, it is said, "rarely washed himself; and on the plea of saving time he used to put on his clean linen over his dirty, so that he has been known to wear at the same time five shirts and five pairs of stockings." Here is a rare example of the indifference of the man of genius to the inere husk, or series of him, his mind, in working order. Yet was not Sir Humphrey a mere sloven, content at all times with the first article of clothing upon which he might lay his hand. Though he was so reckless in the matter of shirts upon common occasions, when he used to go fishing "he would wear green," to resemble vegetable life as much as possible, so that the trout might have some difficulty in distinguishing the biped from the mere roots of the field; and when shooting he were a scarlet cap, "to shield himself from accident from other guns."-All the Year Round.

trudged all the way on foot, over mountain and through monas, carrying knapseck and gun, slept on brush leaps to keep out of the mud, caught cold, from the effects of which has triends thought he would never recover. Lingering with 8 w consumption f many years, he saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised in a country newspaper, and he determined to try it. A few hottles worked a change; six months' continued use cured him. Always too independent to tak his country for a pension, he now says he needs none. He helped save his country, he saved himself! Consumption is Lungsorofula. For scrofula, in all its myriad forms, the "Discovery" is ar unequaled remedy. It cleanses the system of all blood-taints from whatever cluse arising, and cures all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Saltrheum, Tetter, Eczema, and kindred allments. It is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all diseases for which, it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded. Bold by druggists. HE MARCHED WITH SHERMAN, Copyright, 1888, by Would's Dis.
